

TO WE WITH WAMMAKER

Saks & Co. Buy Out Emmons S. Smith.

A GREAT COMMERCIAL DEAL

The Two Adjoining Trade Palaces Will Be Turned Into One, Rivaling Wamwaker's in Philadelphia—The Change Will Be Made as Soon as an Inventory Can Be Completed.

A change in the Washington business world that will be interesting to everybody was made public last night. Mr. Emmons S. Smith, proprietor of the Boston Variety Store, has sold to Messrs. Saks & Co., the outfitters, his stock and fixtures and given them a lease of the building for a term of years. The amount involved could not be definitely learned, but it is said to reach hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Mr. Saks interviewed. A Times reporter found Mr. Isadore Saks, of the firm of Saks & Co., at his home at Chevy Chase last night, and when asked if the report of the purchase by his firm was true, he replied: "It is true. We closed negotiations today through Mr. Samuel Hieber, the real estate broker. We have purchased the stock and fixtures, taken a lease of the building for a term of years, and just as soon as Mr. Smith completes the inventory of his stock, which he will begin to make Monday morning, we will be given possession, and immediately annex his building to ours, making one store of both. I would prefer at this time not to go into any minute details of our plans for the future. In fact we really haven't had time as yet to look around, nor will we know what we shall do definitely until Mr. Smith turns the store and stock over to us. Of course we have a general policy outlined, and you can assure the public that it is our intention to make our new establishment the Wamwaker's of Washington. That we shall have the support of the people, we are confident. They have manifested on every occasion their entire approval of our enterprise, and they will appreciate this last move, we feel certain."

Washington's Trade Palace. Everybody knows the big Saks building, on the corner of Pennsylvania Avenue and Seventh Street, and know it as one of the largest and best business edifices in the city. The Smith building is the newer, and was erected by Mr. Smith last year. Both stores were erected for the purposes for which they are used, and are in every way modern, and when they are thrown together Saks & Co. will have not only the largest retail store in the city, but one of the most complete in the country. Very few changes will be necessary to connect the two buildings, and Saks & Co. may be relied upon to consult the comfort and convenience of the shopping public in linking the two establishments.

The Smith store closed with the end of business last night. On Monday morning the force of clerks will begin at once upon the inventory which will be made up as rapidly as possible. All the preliminaries are completed, only this remaining to be done and their ownership will pass to Saks & Co.

Starting Business Enterprise. It is a big stroke of enterprise on the part of this firm, which, however, the abundance of their past success fully justifies. Certainly no business house in this community enjoys public confidence to a greater degree nor merits it more honestly. It is a Washington store, and The Times knows with their legion of friends in wishing Saks & Co. unlimited success. Mr. Smith desires to take the rest that twenty-eight eminently successful years of business activity entitle him to, with the greater part of his business career has been spent. With the new departure the great department stores of New York and Philadelphia may well begin to look to their laurels.

CERVERA IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Large Crowds Greet the Spanish Prisoner at the Station.

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 13.—For the second time Admiral Cervera, of the Spanish navy, visited Portsmouth today. He arrived here from Annapolis, and although his arrival was kept as secret as possible, there was a great crowd at the station and there was a rousing demonstration.

The admiral was accompanied by his son and two Spanish naval officers. The train was obliged to stop a quarter of a mile outside the station and while waiting on the track there a great crowd gathered. As soon as the train pulled into the station the car was surrounded by the police.

Admiral Cervera was the first to step to the platform and as he did so he uncovered his head while the crowd cheered repeatedly until the party reached their carriage.

As soon as the visitors reached the navy yard they were cordially received by Admiral Carpenter, commandant of the yard. A marine guard of fifty men was drawn up in front of the admiral's headquarters and the usual salute was fired and the visitors escorted in. They were taken to the stockade on Seavey's Island, where the Spanish prisoners are confined and were received soon after by Col. Forney in charge of the camp. Here the admiral and his staff made a tour of inspection and, as expected, the meeting between the men and their former commander was one of the most interesting nature. All the prisoners except those in the hospital were lined up as the officers entered the stockade and the Spanish admiral and his staff passed among them. Many of the prisoners wept and kissed the admiral's hands and some put their arms around his neck. The admiral assured all that they were his best friends, and that he would do all in his power to secure their freedom.

Shortly after noon the visitors left the stockade for the hospital, where the pathetic scenes were repeated. The cemetery where the dead prisoners were buried was also visited and each of the visitors knelt to the ground as they entered and remained uncovered as they closely examined the inscription on the temporary slab at the head of each grave.

The visitors will dine this afternoon with Admiral Carpenter, and it is expected they will pass the night in the city.

Admiral Cervera will probably give some instructions in regard to the release of the prisoners when the Government decides to set them free.

JUDGE HOBSON ASTONISHED.

The Hero's Father Will Accept the Postmaster.

Montgomery, Ala., Aug. 13.—A special from Greensboro, Ala., says that when old Judge Hobson, on yesterday, opened the letter from Washington, announcing his appointment as postmaster, he was the most astonished man in the State. His friends had, without consulting him, urged the President to appoint the hero's father to the place, and Mr. McKinley appeared to find pleasure in accepting the suggestion. Judge Hobson will accept the office.

TWO EARTHQUAKE SHOCKS.

They Were Felt in Washington State Friday Night.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 13.—Two slight earthquake shocks were felt here last night. The vibrations were from east to west and about four seconds in duration.

To Handle Cuban Real Estate.

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 13.—The Cuban Land and Colonization Company, which has received a charter from the State of Kansas, will have its headquarters in Kansas City, Mo. The new company has a capital stock of $250,000, and it will have the right to purchase and sell real estate in Cuba and Porto Rico and the sale of real estate on those islands.

THE AMERICAN ARMY

Its Strength Will Not Be Reduced Pending Negotiations.

MORE TROOPS TO GO TO CUBA

Those Who Are Sick Will Be Mustered Out When Desired—Volunteers to Take the Place of Some of the Regulars in the New Possessions.

The American army now aggregates 255,000 men in the field. This force will be retained practically intact during the present Summer and Autumn, and at least until the signing of the peace treaty.

It is probable that it will not be reduced materially until all the plans for the future government of Cuba, Porto Rico, Hawaii, and the Philippines have been settled, and the number of troops necessary for each of the new American possessions decided.

The authorized strength of the army, of about 250,000 men, was not reached until 35,000. Of the calls for 200,000 volunteers only 150,000 enlisted. The regular army has been recruited to only 51,000, the authorized strength being 60,000. The immunes and other extra recruits authorized have been recruited practically up to their limit. There are 16,000 troops in these regiments.

The plans for the army during the coming months are now under consideration. In general terms, the Porto Rican army will remain at the present strength, and the army in the Philippines will probably be increased. The army under Gen. Shafter at Santiago is being withdrawn, and replaced by 10,000 immunes.

The great addition to the forces now in the field will be in Cuba. The military commission which is to meet at Havana within ten days will decide the complex questions of the evacuation of Cuba by Spain and the occupation by America. During the Autumn and Winter the American army will be sent to the island. The army that will be necessary for this service is estimated at 25,000 to 30,000 men.

One step that will be taken as soon as possible is the relief of the regular army regiments now in the field. They will be sent back to their posts in this country, principally in the West. The places of these regiments will be taken by volunteer regiments from the camps.

When all these plans have been carried out work for about 100,000 troops will have been provided. This will leave about 150,000 reserve. The only immediate reductions in this number will be of the sick and exhausted volunteers who wish to be mustered out. It is thought possible that 20,000 men may be released in this way. The remaining 130,000 of the reserve will be held in the camps until the signing of the peace treaty. When all doubt as to the final peace is past they will be released.

It is now the general opinion of army officers that the American army, on a peace footing, will never again be less than 100,000. The balance sheet prepared by the War Department for the coming year of Congress increasing the regular army to this basis.

MORE WITNESSES EXAMINED.

Further Investigation Into the Third Virginia's Troubles.

The investigation into the trouble in the Third Virginia was continued yesterday by the special court of inquiry at Camp Alger.

Capt. Brooks, quartermaster of the First Division, was the first witness. He testified to hearing shooting in the Third Virginia quarters on the night in question. He assisted Maj. Gen. Butler in restoring quiet and arresting some of the men. He told of discourtesy shown to officers by the Third Virginia at the time.

Major M. C. Butler, Jr., son of Gen. Butler, next called, and testified to having notified Col. Nalle, of the Third Virginia, of the disturbance among his men.

Major Merriam, Major Cooke, Major Wright, Major Devine, A. G. Houriet, and A. W. Scott also testified. All were witnesses for the Government, and sustained Gen. Butler's position.

The court then took a recess until Monday morning, when the investigation will be continued.

A special court-martial is in session in the Second Division. Second Army Corps, at Thoroughfare Gap. A court was created to try Capt. L. C. Duncan, of the Twenty-second Kansas Hospital Corps, who is under arrest, charged with having deserted and joining the rebels. He was arrested at the grave of Major Duke, C. S. A., last Saturday during the march from Manassas.

The court is composed of the following: Chief Clerk, Col. C. W. Abbott, Jr.; E. M. Hoffman, Third New York; Marcus Kavanaugh, Seventh Illinois; Keller Anderson, Second Tennessee; and Lieut. W. Fleming, T. H. Stevens, L. M. Ford, and Capt. W. E. Schuyler, E. E. Whipple and J. G. Butler. The judge advocate is Major W. E. Stringfellow.

Duncan is being guarded by four armed sentries, who have orders to shoot him if he attempts to escape. The prisoner will be represented by Major Harvey, Twenty-second Kansas, who is the lieutenant governor of Kansas and an able lawyer. Duncan is an anatomist in the Kansas State Medical College.

The Third New York were paid yesterday. The other regiments are getting anxious, as pay day is already two weeks overdue.

Major Phillips has been appointed chief surgeon of the Second Division. He relieves Major Almy, who goes to Montauk, N. J.

The boys of the Seventh Illinois are wild with disappointment. Some kind Chicago friend, knowing the troops were dry, sent a carload of beer to the Seventh. The beer arrived at Thoroughfare Gap in regular order, but was there seized by the provost marshal, and is now in the hands of a provost guard. Therefore, the boys go dry while the beer gets warm on the railroad.

The march to Bradford, Pa., will begin on Monday, and the troops are delighted at the prospect of leaving their present quarters, where they say the boys have suffered much.

A Relic of the War.

Mr. W. H. Noyes, an employee of the Government Printing Office, has received an interesting relic of the naval battle off Santiago in which Admiral Cervera's fleet was destroyed.

The relic is a large silver coin which was found on the flagship Maria Teresa by Viste A. Thompson, of this city, who is a gunner's mate on the Texas. The coin is badly mutilated, having been struck by a fragment of shell during the engagement. The value of the coin is five pesos, and it bears the inscription, "Amado a del rey de Espana, 1871."

The Window Glass Strike.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 13.—The scale of the window glass workers has been settled on a basis of a wage advance for blowers and gatherers averaging 7 per cent.

WHAT SPAIN HAS LOST
Her Experience With the American Pigs a Costly One.

DEFEATED AT EVERY POINT
The Navy Wiped Out of Existence—Cuba, Which Could Have Been Sold for $200,000,000, Is Gone Forever—Porto Rico and the Philippines Also.

The balance sheet of the Spanish-American war cannot be worked out completely as yet, but unofficial figures which take up some of the larger gains and losses as far as they are known were being made by the officers of the army and navy yesterday.

Spain's losses in territory are Cuba, Porto Rico, and the other islands in the West Indies; one of the Ladrones, and probably the Philippines entirely. Of her navy, she has lost nothing except the ships, completed and incomplete, in the Mediterranean, and a few small gunboats supposed to be in the lesser harbors of the West Indies.

America has destroyed and captured thirty-seven ships of all classes, comprising three-fourths of Spain's entire navy. There has been a great loss of war materials other than ships. At Manila and at Santiago the Americans have captured large numbers of rifles and ammunition and a few modern guns. The Spanish losses in men is not yet known, but it is estimated that the killed at Manila and Santiago in the naval battles, and at Santiago and in the smaller engagements between the armies, will number at least 2,000.

The cost of the Spanish warships lost, according to the Spanish figures, was $2,000,000. The guns, rifles and ammunition cost a few millions more. The value of the territory that has gone from Spain can hardly be estimated in figures. It was said that she would have been willing to sell Cuba before the war for $200,000,000, but this was at a time when she knew that if she did not make some disposition of the island very quickly she would lose it and get nothing.

Spain has been able to negotiate untold millions in loans on her colonial possessions. America's losses began with the Maine and her crew, and it may almost be said that she ended with the Maine. The Merrimac was sacrificed purposely for strategic advantage at the mouth of the Chesapeake. No other ships have been lost or even damaged materially. No territory has been lost. The loss in men is much less than that of Spain. The figures have not been compiled as yet, but it is understood that the 366 men lost with the Maine are more than all the other losses together.

The cost of the war in actual outlay of money to the two countries is yet to be summed up. The amount expended by America to the present time is $100,000,000 in round numbers. The total cost of the war to the present time is $100,000,000. In addition to the amount already spent, is for the maintenance of the army, the interest on the loan, the pension list, and other minor matters.

The gains of the war are all on the side of America. Spain's credit side is absolutely blank, unless there is to be an estimate of the moral value of the lesson of the war. The balance sheet prepared by the army and navy officers stopped with those figures. The deduction made was that if America secures the Philippines, she will more than pay for the war in actual gains of measurable money value. Without the Philippines they were of the opinion that the war would show a loss of several hundred millions.

NEWS FROM ALEXANDRIA.
Much Damage Done by the Recent Rain Storm.

Alexandria, Va., Aug. 12.—Reports received here today from the surrounding counties are to the effect that the storm which visited this section yesterday did considerable damage. No loss of life resulted from the floods which followed the heavy rainfall, but many persons came near being drowned. The foundations of the iron bridge over Cameron Run, near Robert's Crossing, in Fairfax County, were undermined, and about 3 o'clock this morning the structure gave way and fell into the swollen stream. Mrs. Bolden and a colored boy were crossing the bridge in a wagon at the time, and were thrown into the water. After a desperate struggle they reached the banks of the stream. The horse was cut loose from the wagon and swam ashore. The wagon was caught under the bridge and badly damaged. The Accotink Bridge, in Alexandria County, was also swept away. The building at "Coke's Rest," on Mt. Vernon Avenue, was flooded, and A. O. Travers, the proprietor, lost his life. The building, however, immediately after the storm had abated a large force of men from Alexandria went to work rebuilding it. The building is now being rebuilt. The Washington road was washed out for 200 yards. A good number of the houses in the vicinity were damaged. The damage was repaired this evening, and trains are now running as usual.

The work of repairing the damage on the Mt. Vernon Electric Road at Fort Belvoir has also so far advanced that trains were started running at 8 1/2 tonight between this city and Washington. Since the road has been run over by the Pennsylvania road.

The Third and Fourth United States Cavalry, which reached St. Asaph last night, from Tampa, expect to remain in their new quarters for four days before proceeding North. Secretary Alger telegraphed the officers in command this morning to take the cars and confine the trip to their destination. The entire camp was thrown into much confusion, preparations having been made to carry out the order, when another telegram was received from the Secretary rescinding his previous order, and directing the troops to be detained at St. Asaph for four days.

Margaret J. Bushford, of Alexandria County, wife of Henry Bushford, died at her home in Fairfax County, having successfully passed the examination for teachers in the public schools of the county. She was 34 years of age. She was followed by this city a few days ago by the body of a woman, who was killed by a horse and cart near the city.

The body of the late Mrs. Mattie C. Packard, who died at Rockville, Md., was interred at Ivy Hill, near this city, today.

Robert Thomson, who resided in this city for many years, died yesterday at Athens, N. J. He was seventy-five years of age.

The body of James Heaton, who committed suicide, will be interred on Monday.

Rev. Dr. Butler will announce tomorrow whether or not he will remain pastor of the First Baptist Church.
